

GAME PRESERVE FOR OHIO STATE IN ADAMS AND SCIOTO

State Game Preserve of 26,000 Acres May Be Located in Neighboring Counties in Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio.—Recommendations for the purchase of 26,000 acres of land in Scioto and Adams counties under the terms of the Atwood act is made by the Legislative Committee on Conservation, which was named under the resolution of Senator G. E. Kryder of Henry.

The price suggested to be paid for the land is $5 an acre. The committee thinks that funds should be guarded carefully "and there should be no hesitancy in filing condemnation proceedings where the owners of such lands desire to hold the state for a larger sum than these funds are worth."

The committee recommends that the $50,000 appropriated by the Silver law be used to purchase 10,000 acres contiguous to the tracts in Scioto and Adams counties for replanting.

Lands for game preserve can be reforested and lands bought for reforestation can also be used for game preserves, it is stated. It is recommended that the State Forester have complete jurisdiction to prevent fires.

PREPARE TO MEET THY GOD, EVANGELIST'S TOPIC

Revival at Christian Church Grows in Interest—Strong Sermons Are Delivered.

Prepare to meet thy God, the divine injunction as found in Amos 4:12 was the text for the sermon at Christian church evangelistic service Friday evening. Like John the Baptist crying in the wilderness "prepare ye the way" so also must man make preparation while here on earth for that home beyond the stars. The speaker emphasized the great importance of systematic and proper preparation for any life work. He pointed out the futility of embarking on any worthwhile enterprise without first thorough preparation for the work to be done. Important then as this getting ready for life work is, of how much more importance is that preparation which must be a part of every Christian's experience for the life immortal. At the close of the service four came forward to unite with the church, three by confession and one by statement. The songs were inspiring and the gospel presented in a convincing manner.

Mrs. Tuckerman will give her Bible study drill this afternoon at 3:45. She has a fine class of boys and girls interested in this work and she very earnestly invites young folks from any church in the city to come and take advantage of these studies from God's word.

It takes more than good sermons and inspiring songs to make a successful revival meeting. There must be loyal attendance and hearty co-operation on the part of the church membership.

No services Saturday evening. Come out Sunday at 9:30 and help to make a banner Bible school as a good start for the day. Preaching service at 10:30 and 7 o'clock.

EASTER STAR HAS DELIGHTFUL MEETING.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Maysville Chapter Eastern Star held Friday evening at the Masonic Temple was a most interesting one and there was probably the largest attendance that chapter has ever had. Mrs. C. S. Kirk, one of the charter members of the organization, was highly honored by being installed as Grand Martha of the Grand Chapter of Kentucky. Past Grand Patron Smith, of Millersburg, was the installing officer. Following the regular meeting and the installation a most delightful social time was had by the members.

FAMILY QUARREL IS FATAL TO WIFE, NATIVE OF LEWIS

Former Lewis County Woman Dies From Scalds Received When In Tussle With Portsmouth Husband.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—Shocks suffered by Mrs. Addie Cattell when she was severely burned by scalding water during a tussle with her husband at their home 310 Third street, caused her death at Hempstead hospital at 12:15 o'clock Friday morning of last week.

She was seriously burned about the neck, shoulders and back by the water from a tea kettle picked up by the women during a quarrel with her husband early last week.

Mrs. Cattell was taken to Hempstead hospital where it was thought for a time that she would get along nicely. Later her condition changed and for a few days had been in a serious condition. It became alarming Thursday evening and her husband was summoned. He was at her bedside when the end came early Friday morning.

Mrs. Cattell had not been in the heat of health and when she was burned the shock she suffered was too much for her frail body and she passed away after many hours of suffering.

Mrs. Cattell was formerly Miss Addie Lyles a native of Lewis county, Ky. She was a daughter of C. B. and Mary Lyles. The last thirteen years of her life had been spent in Ohio. After a short time in this city the family moved to Rome, Adams county, and about four years ago returned to this city. Mrs. Cattell was 34 years of age. She is survived by her husband, Clifford Cattell and four children, Clifford, 11, an invalid, Edward, 10, Robert, 7, and Virgil, 4. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lyles, of Front street near Market, two sisters, Mrs. Al Wise, of Portsmouth, and Mrs. Inez Kahle, of Wooster, Ohio, and four brothers, Robert, Glenn and Wilbert Lyles, of this city, and Chester, of Coblenz, Germany. Mrs. Cattell was a member of the Methodist church.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL.

The first week of the revival services has brought out large and interested crowds. Professor and Mrs. Tuckerman have greatly pleased the people with their solos and duets. Prof. Tuckerman is always in fine humor and the large chorus and audiences like to sing with him. Two pianos are furnishing the instrumental music. Mrs. Tuckerman is conducting a large Bible class for children and young people at 3:45 each day. She is an unusually good teacher and is offering a rare opportunity to all who come without reference to church affiliation. Judging from the week night attendance standing room will be at a premium Sunday. The first week this year has surpassed the first week of the great meeting held last year and that is going some. The second week will doubtless be still greater. The pastor is at his best and is dealing out very plain pointed gospel sermons. The question box is proving interesting. Every body cordially invited to enjoy these good things with us.

MRS. DEMOSS HELD FOR MURDER WITHOUT BOND.

Mrs. Ossie DeMoss, 42 years old, of Cincinnati, formerly of Flemingsburg, who shot and killed her husband, Charles DeMoss, in the bedroom of their home at 421 East Third street on Thursday night, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Judge Joseph Woeste in Municipal Court Friday morning. She was charged with murder and bound over to the grand jury without bond.

Mrs. DeMoss surrendered to the police following the shooting, and turned over six empty cartridges and the revolver. She told Lieutenant Doyle of the Second District that she shot her husband because he tried to beat her.

FISCAL COURT ADJOURNS WITHOUT ELECTION.

The Mason Fiscal Court adjourned Friday afternoon until next Saturday without electing a County Road Engineer there being a tie in the race between Messrs. R. L. Simons and Joseph Williams for the position. It is expected that members of the court will have reached an agreement before the next meeting at which time an election will be held.

LOCAL WRITER'S STORY FEATURED IN MAGAZINE.

In the current issue of the People's Home Journal there is featured a very interesting Valentine story entitled "On St. Valentine's Trail" by Mrs. Eleanor Duncan Wood, of this city, a most brilliant writer rapidly coming into prominence as a writer of short stories and light verse.

BILL WOULD BANISH EVOLUTION FROM SCHOOLS

Measure to Be Presented in General Assembly Monday Fixing Penalty for Teaching Evolution of Man.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21.—"Darwinism, atheism, agnosticism and evolution, as it pertains to man," will be banished from the curriculum of Kentucky educational institutions if a bill to be introduced Monday by Representative G. W. Ellis of Barren county, is passed.

His bill forbids, under penalty of a fine of $50 to $5,000 or imprisonment from ten days to a year, "any teacher principal, superintendent, president or any one connected in any way with the public schools, high schools, training schools, normal schools, colleges, universities or other institutions of learning in the Commonwealth where public money is used in whole or in part for the purpose of maintenance, education or training of children, young men or young women, teaching or knowingly permitting to be taught any of these 'isms'."

A fine or not more than $5,000 and forfeiture of its charter is the penalty prescribed for the institution where they are taught.

FIXED FOR USING ABUSIVE LANGUAGE TO TRUANT OFFICER

Mr. J. R. Bolling was fined $9.15 in "Squire Fred W. Bauer's" court Saturday morning on a charge of using abusive language. The complaining witness was City Truant Officer John Walsh, who said that he called on Mr. Bolling to inquire why his daughter was not attending school and that Mr. Bolling told him that it was none of his business and was ordered out of the defendant's store.

Parents should learn by this that the truant officer is not sent out to trifle with them but to execute the law and compel parents who are negligent to see that their children attend school with regularity.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING.

The Mason County Woman's Club held a very interesting meeting at the City Mission Home Friday afternoon. Quite a number of the members were present. City Judge Harry C. Curran delivered the address on "Public Welfare."

COVINGTON DEFEATS LOCALS.

The Maysville High School basketball team was defeated by the Covington team Friday evening at the local gymnasium by a score of 19 to 12. There was considerable interest in the game and a large attendance of local fans.

POPE BENEDICT IS NEARING DEATH SAYS OFFICIAL BULLETIN

"The End Is Imminent" Says Cardinal As He Came From Bed Chamber at Vatican Early This Afternoon.

Rome, Jan. 21.—(1:30 p. m.)—"The end is imminent," Cardinal Gasparri, emerging from the bed chamber where Pope Benedict XV lay dying, asserted this afternoon.

Cardinal Gasparri was weeping. He announced the pope was delirious and had insisted upon resuming his work.

Rome, Jan. 21.—Pope Benedict XV was sleeping quietly when his physicians visited him at 9 a. m. today. An earlier statement that his death was a matter of only a few minutes was withdrawn immediately.

It was asserted by the papal physicians that his holiness might linger for some time, as did Pope Leo XIII.

Praying prelates outside the Vatican and cardinals and attendants crowding the antechambers had been plunged into the deepest gloom by a statement from Professor Marchisava that Pope Benedict's death was a question of minutes.

A statement issued at 10 a. m. asserted that should the unexpected sleep into which the pontiff had sunk continue for several hours, it might justify hope for his recovery.

At noon, however, it was announced the pope's condition had become worse.

The physicians, who were in constant attendance upon the pope since Friday and who retired early today only at his holiness' request, visited the papal chamber at 7 a. m. today.

An official bulletin issued afterward read:

"His holiness' condition became worse during the night. The pneumonia has spread. His temperature was 38.4 centigrade, pulse 120 and respiration 60."

At 8 a. m. word came to the gathering throngs outside the Vatican that Pope Benedict could live only for a brief while, the death agony having begun. His holiness, having received communion and extreme unction in the early hours today, was sinking rapidly.

MAYSVILLE IS TO HAVE NEW DEPARTMENT STORE

Cincinnati Firm Leases the Barkley Building in Second Street—Will Open Up-to-Date Store March 1.

Contracts were closed late Friday between H. D. Mease and Son, of Cincinnati, and the owners of the Barkley building in Second street now occupied by the F. O. Barkley Shoe Company, whereby the Cincinnati firm leased the building for a term of years.

Mr. Frank O. Barkley, manager of the Barkley store, announces that possession will be given about March first.

The Cincinnati firm proposes to open a first class department store handling ladies' and gentlemen's clothing and furnishings and everything that can be found in an up-to-date department store in cities offering the people of the Maysville trade area another high class store. Considerable changes will probably be made in the building before the new store is opened to the public.

DESTROYED "WET" EVIDENCE.

Prohibition Agent John D. W. Colina reported to state prohibition headquarters at Lexington Friday that G. H. Blakeley, of Danna, Ky., arrested December 5 with ten gallons of moonshine in his possession, was arraigned before County Judge Pess Whitaker, Letcher county and was discharged without a trial. According to the report, Blakeley destroyed the evidence, breaking the container which held the liquor.

OUR POLICY:

THE MINIMUM WAGE IDEA

There are times when kindness kills, as there are times when well-meaning humanitarians defeat their own ends. As to the high motives of those who are now attempting to persuade the Kentucky Legislature to pass a minimum wage law for women workers, there can be no doubt. And despite the fact that their own cooks and household servants are excluded from the bill, which is doubtless an oversight.

The published purpose of the minimum wage law is to safeguard the working girl, to enable her to dress, clothe and feed herself independently of outside assistance. It is to make a thorough anachronism of Thomas Hood's "Song of the Shirt," and its sequel, "The Bridge of Sighs." It would be a satanic person who could law a finger against the passage of the minimum wage law if its operation would have such effect.

On the other hand, it is certain that the passage of the minimum wage law would injure girls who most need help without bringing any great benefit to those who would profit by it.

One basis for this conclusion is the fact that the law would interfere with the working of supply and demand and is, therefore, uneconomic, dangerous and unsound. Labor is a commodity, just as is anything that is sold on the market. An attempt to fix wages by arbitrary legislative decree is open to the same objection as price-fixing. If a manufacturer is instructed by a law-making body how much he shall pay his employees, by the same process of reasoning he should be guaranteed by the same body a fixed price for his products. What would the consumer say to that?

Some humorist once made an appeal for the repeal of the law of supply and demand. His jest had a germ of reason, for various law-making bodies have at one time or another in recent years acted as though that were the goal of their ambition. Those who follow such experiments through become as little inclined to tamper with orderly economic process as they would be to attempt to sever the connection between the moon and the tides.

In the present case, the proposal is to require the employer to pay girls a specified wage. Immediately such a proposal is in operation, the employer changes his hiring methods. He becomes more exacting of applicants. He abolishes light jobs which were theretofore filled by girls who could not handle heavier work and, therefore, were not worth a higher salary. Of those girls remaining, he demands a higher standard of efficiency.

The problem of employment becomes the problem of the survival of the fittest. The fittest do not need a minimum wage law. The weaker and less capable girls are forced out of work, although these are the ones whom the minimum wage advocates desire particularly to help and who need help most of all. Such a less capable girl might now be occupying a part-time or light position which is worth to the employer $8 a week. It is certain no minimum wage law would make him pay $15 a week for the same girl doing the same tasks. He would put the task on another employee or leave it undone. Meanwhile, the girl's income, which at least went some way in her support, is lopped off and she finds herself, through the operation of so-called beneficent legislation, out of work.

In the district of Columbia where a minimum wage law is in effect, employers reject girls who offer to fill their demand at $15 a week in order to hire boys who are willing to fill it for $10.

In order to administer such a law, moreover, it would be necessary to create scores of wage boards whose task it would be to ascertain what the minimum wage should be for each occupation and each locality. Standards of living vary. The cost of living fluctuates daily. The latter is as hard to gauge as a will o' the wisp. And all these boards, agents of the Legislature, in pursuance of their difficult task, would hover around employers who are already harassed and harassed enough. Such governmental meddling is not desired especially now when business is itself struggling to keep its feet and when the slogan throughout the country is for "less government in business and more business in government."

The Courier-Journal hopes that the Legislature will refuse to pass the minimum wage bill. While any sincere effort to help the poor girl must be admired, a minimum wage would, on the contrary, keep many poor girls out of jobs and require many more to work harder for their salaries. The minimum wage proposal is sterile soil. It defies that which cannot be defied—the law of supply and demand. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

WATER PURIFICATION EXPENSIVE TO THE PUBLIC.

Great complaint is going up from the property owners of Maysville because of the annoyance, inconvenience and expense caused by the present system of purification of water used by the Maysville Water Company.

In all parts of the city the streets are torn up and in scores of homes and business houses, local plumbers are busy installing new water pipes at great expense to the property owners because the chlorine used by the Maysville Water Company for purification is forming a crust in the water pipes and cutting down the size of the stream, and the pressure.

Here is a place for the Water Commission, recently named by Mayor Samuel, to begin work.

The Water Company should adopt some other system of purification as effective as the chlorine system which will not cause the annoyance and expense caused by the present system.

Property owners who are going to the expense of installing new water pipes have no assurance, with a continuance of the present system, that they will not be called upon within a few years, at most to go to the same expense again of installing another complete new line of piping.

Although the chlorine system of purification has the approval and endorsement of the Medicos, we of the laity cannot help but think that if the chlorine forms a crust in the metal pipes, it must have some unhealthy effect upon the interior of one's stomach. But aside from the health question, the expense and annoyance to which local taxpayers are put is sufficient to attract the attention of the Water Commission, the mediator between the public and the Maysville Water Company.

HEALTH EXPOSITION
EXPECTED TO ATTRACT
GREAT ATTENDANCE.

Large Crowds Expected to Visit Louisville During Health Exposition in February.

Health, so long neglected as a vital domestic problem to be dealt with at the innermost councils of the family circle, is to be brought forcefully before every man, woman and child in the vast crowds who are expected to visit the National Health Exposition in Louisville February 1 to 9.

There will be the live exhibits, the clinics, the free examinations; all so attractive to the public that none can pass without learning some little part of health conservation or sanitation that will prove so useful long after the blazing lights of the exposition have been doused and the busy hammers of the workmen have obliterated all sign of this wonderful array of exhibits.

It is the purpose of those great health organizations, headed by the United States Public Health Service and the State Board of Health, who are conducting the exposition, to promote better health in every home, to eliminate the tremendous yearly toll from preventable diseases and to instill into the minds and hearts of the laymen the need for right living, right eating and right exercise.

The most is unselfish and to which the medical profession has given unstinted service. None can say the present generation will receive but little reward for the care of the mind, the body and the general health. All will benefit, and estimates, as only estimates can be given, place the benefit in cold calculating figures at — one added year to the average life of each of those who attend the exposition.

The medical profession, surgery, chemistry, and all the allied sciences, have made wonderful strides in the past decade that the time now is ripe that this progress should be visualized to the public in such manner as to be readily understood by the most unlearned layman as well as the most skillful surgeon or physician.

More than 5,000 persons will participate in the program, displays and demonstrations which will be carried out as the result of elaborate planning.

Displays at the exposition will include scientific and commercial exhibits showing the work of the medical, dental, pharmaceutical, hospital and nursing professions. Novelties, scientific wonders and mechanical displays will play a big part in attracting the laymen to the exposition.

Speakers of national authority in medical and allied professional lines will address the United States Public Health Institute which will be held in Louisville in conjunction with the exposition, among them being Dr. M. J. Rosenau, Dean of the Harvard School of Public Health; Dr. George T. Palmer, President of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association; Dr. John H. Stokes of the Mayo Clinic; Miss Francis Brink, director of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing; and Reinald C. Anagnostie, president emeritus of the American Ophthalmic Association.

The importance and wide scope of the interest aroused throughout the United States by the exposition is evidenced by the granting of reduced railroad fares on all railroads entering Louisville for the period of the exposition.

This exposition already has drawn commercial and educational exhibitors from all parts of America, with the possibility that nearly half of the 200,000 visitors expected will come from other states than Kentucky.

Many of these visitors will be members of the medical profession, but the majority will be laymen to whom the message of health is of first moment and upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility of building up future generations free from the diseases that have fettered this and past generations since the beginning of human life.

It is the experience of the medical profession that such an object lesson as the National Health Exposition will

EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS
BY NATIONAL SCHOOLS

Americanization, Vocational and Ku Klux Institutions Rapidly Increasing Opportunities.

Washington, D. C. — Americanization classes in Washington, D. C., schools are attended by over fifteen hundred foreign born, ranging from 15 to 80 years of age. Congress maintains these Americanization schools as institutions separate from the ordinary educational schools of the National Capital and makes an annual appropriation therefor not included in the educational budget.

The National Society for Vocational Education, closing its fifteenth annual convention in Kansas City, adopted a resolution endorsing the establishment of a Federal Department of Education.

The Ku Klux Klan has launched a nation-wide money-gathering campaign to accumulate a fund of one million dollars, looking to the establishment of the University of America, with William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard, as president.

The first vocational training school for veterans has opened at Chillicothe, Ohio, where war veterans are now studying a score of different trades and occupations, including agriculture, auto-mechanics, carpentry and frame building, cabinetmaking, upholstery and body work on automobiles, electrical work, including general interior and exterior wiring and armature winding, plumbing, sheet-metal work, sign painting, shoe repairing, tailoring, laundering, typewriter repairing, baking, cooking and nursing (male), general mechanics, machine shop work, drafting, and vulcanizing.

A three million dollar home and vocational school for war orphans will be erected and maintained on the site given by Mrs. Katherin Clemmings Gould to the Army and Navy Union.

R. J. Condon, Cincinnati, Ohio, school superintendent, told the Joint Congressional committee on schools in Washington, D. C., that the general feeling thru out the country was that Congress had not properly taken care of the educational facilities and system in the Nation's Capital, and urged "the best school system in the country," tending to a university course to be provided by the nation.

CHURCHES WITH HARDING IN CONFERENCE RESULT

Call Upon American Public Opinion to Stand By President in Efforts to Guarantee Peace.

Washington, D. C. — All of the Protestant churches of the country and twenty million communicants through the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America have extolled the Harding administration for bringing about actual limitation of the world's burden of armament and for greatly lessening the dangers of war.

"The executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America records on behalf of the churches their solemn and reverent thanksgiving to God for the Conference on Limitation of Armament," says the report. "In it we recognize His answer to the fervent prayers of millions of Christians throughout this and many other lands. The prophecies of Isaiah and Isaiah at last begin to receive fulfillment."

"We rejoice in the splendid achievements of the conference already assured. They are but the first step toward a warless world. We need to encourage one another and to press forward toward the goal which the Prince of Peace Himself has set before us. With a view to that goal, it is fitting that we should at this time make the following declaration:

"We realize that as churches it is not for us to define in detail the political methods and institutions by which the scourge of war shall be ended and the fear of war shall be banished forever from civilized and Christian nations. The determination of such details must be left to diplomats, jurists, and legislators.

"But we maintain with firm conviction that it is the right and the duty of the church to declare in no doubtful terms the moral principles that are involved in international life, and to insist that our lawmakers, our diplomats, and all those who represent our Nation in its international relations shall observe these principles with utmost care.

"We hold that the moral principles of international life are the most important of all the so-called 'vital interests' of every nation.

"These 'vital interests' are of such importance to the life of churches and nations that every congregation of every church in every land should cooperate for the achievement of a warless world. The World War was won only by international unity of purpose and action. A warless world can be achieved only by like unity of millions of peace-makers.

"We recognize with deep satisfaction the new spirit of amity and mutual consideration that has sprung up between the nations represented at the conference. This spirit we regard as of greater importance and as giving more hope for the future than any of the specific agreements.

"The Conference on Limitation of Armament has, indeed, made a good beginning. We deep rejoice in the agreements for a radical reduction of armaments, for the 10-year naval holiday, for the 10-year four-power agreement to maintain peace in the Pacific, and for the steps taken looking toward a real solution of China's pressing problems.

"We believe that the time has come for American public opinion to express unmistakably to Congress its emphatic support of President Harding and of the administration in making adequate pledges and in giving satisfactory guarantees that the United States will take its full share of responsibility in international tasks and obligations."

FEDERAL SCHOOLS ON TUBERCULOSIS TRAIN PHYSICIANS
Many U. S. Public Health Physicians Are Given Training in Treatment of Tubercular Patients.

The tuberculosis schools for medical officers in soldier hospitals and examining stations which were established some 18 months ago by the U. S. Public Health Service and were recently taken over by the Veterans' Bureau have trained several hundred Service physicians, four-fifths of whom have qualified in making special examinations of the chest and in reporting thereon with accuracy satisfactory to the somewhat exacting requirements of the Rating Board of the Veterans' Bureau.

This has involved the expenses for travel and the inconvenience and hazard to tubercular veterans in going long distances to chest specialists and has more than balanced the cost of the schooling.

These schools were established in the spring of 1920 in various parts of the United States. Courses of instruction were arranged and the students were chosen from among the medical officers and specialists in the service of the United States Public Health Service. In the Eighth District alone, which comprises the States of Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, and where more than 150 physicians were trained, seven such courses were conducted—three at Springfield, Ill., two at Maudslaw Sanatorium, Wauwatosa, Wis., and two at the Michigan State Sanatorium at Howell. The broad benefits of the courses having become apparent, it was then thought advisable to concentrate the efforts and combine the staff of the three original schools into one school and to conduct it at Chicago, where the district office of the bureau was located. Four very intensive seven-day courses were conducted there.

The course embraced instruction in topography, inspection, palpation, percussion, and auscultation, demonstrations of the normal chest, chest pathology, and finally a study of advanced cases in hospitals. The classes were divided into small sections for individual instruction under specialists, who guided each student through the steps of diagnosis, and taught him to visualize the conditions accountable for the physical findings.

A review with quizzes was then conducted, thoroughly fixing each point in the minds of the members of the class, followed by special instruction in differential diagnosis and clinics. No member of the class was allowed to leave without learning individually to differentiate different breath sounds, voice conductivity, and kinds of rales, or without a mechanical and clinical knowledge concerning them.

A lecture and clinic on the heart, and a short course in X-ray and laboratory work were also given, and cinema diagnostic films were exhibited. The latest course was held at Chicago during the week December 5-11.

DAUGHTER HAD TO HELP MOTHER

Now Can Do All Her Housework Alone Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Jasper, Minn. — "I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it because I was having such pains in my stomach and through my back that I could not do my work. I had tried other medicines, but none did me the good that your Vegetable Compound did. Now I am able to do all my work alone while before I had my daughter staying at home to do it. I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. JESSE PETERSEN, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it has helped other women. So if you suffer from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or are passing through the Change of Life remember this splendid medicine. What it did for Mrs. Petersen it may do for you.

The Vegetable Compound stands upon a foundation of nearly fifty years of service.

Amethyst tie-pins are popular at Deauville because of their alleged luck-bringing virtues.

To play with the third and fourth fingers of the left hand crossed is an ancient device practiced by one woman, who gave no reason for her faith, but such manipulation of the fingers is a bad habit.

EVER HAVE IT?
You have the Statement of This Maysville Citizen Will Interest You.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back?
In the "small" right over the hips? That's the home of backache. If it's caused by weak kidneys, use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Maysville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it: Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207 West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood & Son's Drug Store and get a couple boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them gladly."

Price 60c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mattingly had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SUPERSTITION'S CLAIM ALMONDS BRING LUCK.
Unusually rich in superstitions are the gambling resorts of Deauville and Monte Carlo.

Not the least inexplicable of these strange faiths is the belief voiced by a Russian at Deauville that eating almonds for dinner is the secret of good luck at the tables.

At Monte Carlo this season a man and woman appeared at the tables every night, and while the man played the woman remained seated, nursing a black cat. The man at first won considerably; but later his luck changed.

VANCEBURG YOUTHS SEEK AUNT IN CITY.

Cincinnati, Jan. 21.—Unable to find their aunt, Mrs. Sarah Clark, after a day's search of the city, two boys, who said they were Russell and Herbert Morgan, 16 and 18 years old, respectively, of Vanceburg, Ky., walked into police headquarters last night and asked Detectives Joseph Brink and William Hill for assistance. The police are holding the lads until their aunt is located.

Russell told the police that he and his brother left home ten days ago to come to Cincinnati to work and live at the home of their aunt. They told the police that they rode on freight trains and obtained food by begging. Their father is dead and they lived with their mother, they said.

"CANNED FRUIT" PROVES TO BE BOOZZE.

Bootleggers have tried to transport booze by mail, but it remained for a Batavia, Ohio, woman to hazard a shipment of moonshine liquor by express.

In true womanly fashion she used glassa fruit jars to conceal the contents of a wooden case billed as "canned fruit." The plan would have been successful if an expressman had not let the box slip out of his hands. A board was torn off, and the expressman saw the jars contained white liquid instead of fruit.
